Dr. William Stone is a Professor of Criminal Justice at Texas State University. He has professional experience in the fields of corrections and law enforcement as well as an academic career that spans over thirty years. He has published over thirty research reports, articles and book chapters. He has also been active in professional associations presenting numerous papers at regional and national meetings. He has been involved in many areas of correctional and law enforcement research including; suicide prevention, population projections, inmate classification systems, prison rape reduction (PREA), homicide solvability indexes and intelligence sharing.